- Henry-Griffitts Fairway Woods

Henry-Griffitts recently introduced the RDH Fairway Series woods. The woods feature a new face material known as MAS 900H, which is harder than titanium and has elastic properties that create higher ball velocity leading to greater distance. Higher launch angles and less backspin are created by a lower center of gravity location in the club head. The fairway woods are available in both non-offset and offset models. Lofts for the non-offset models are 13, 16, 19, and 23 degrees. Lofts for the offset models are 16, 19, 23, and 27 degrees. Manufacturer's suggested retail price is $245 each with steel shaft, $305 each with graphite shaft, and $365 each with ultra-light graphite shaft.

- MacGregor Go Long Driving Irons

MacGregor Golf extends their V-FOIL product line with the introduction of the V-FOIL Go Long Driving Iron. Designed to deliver the power and high launch angle of a fairway wood and the control and accuracy of an iron, the V-FOIL Go Long Driving Iron features concentrated mass and a hot face with perimeter weighting in a forged cavity back design. The massive weight low and deep and high MOI provides a high launch angle even from difficult lies, and the curved, contoured sole reduces drag when hitting from the rough. Extended shaft lengths add to the distance properties of the club. Available in lofts of 16 and 19 degrees with a Suggested Retail Price of $139.99 in steel and $159.99 in graphite.
